cat condo makes cats more independent?

I'm planning on buying a cat condo for my 2 cats. Will that make them not wanting to sleep with me on my bed at night? Will they like sleeping in cat condo better?

I want them to sleep on my bed at night.

Cat condos are just nice ways for your cat to relax during the day. They are fun for them to be in, but they shouldn't make your cat want to sleep in that instead of your bed. I have 3 cats, who all have a cat condo. They enjoy staying there during the day, but will take me over it any day, or night I should say. If you see them sleeping in it, just pick them up and plop them on your bed. Pet them and just wait until they lay down on the bed. Nothing should change though. If they normally sleep in your bed, then they will continue to do that.

Good luck! :)
